"Satan" Told Jesus How to Build the Church?
by Dan Jenkins [edited]

The apostles knew that Jesus had to be the Messiah because they had seen and heard what He had said and done. Yet, they had a wrong view about the coming King and His kingdom. They were preaching that the kingdom was coming but had no comprehension of its nature.
This is so vividly seen in the event found in Matthew chapter sixteen. Jesus and His disciples were in northern Galilee when the Lord asked them to tell Him who people thought He was. "Who do men say that I, the Son of Man, am?" (Matthew 16:13)
Some people saw Him as being like Moses, the great lawgiver, who had delivered laws and the commandments of God. In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus reminded those who heard Him about what Moses had said about killing, adultery, divorce and oaths. Jesus was delivering new laws and commandments but contrasting what Moses said and then saying, "But I say..."
Some thought He was like Elijah. This prophet was so devoted to truth that he openly rebuked those who rejected what God had said. Jesus also openly rebuked the hypocritical leaders just as Elijah shamelessly rebuked Ahab and Jezebel.
Others thought He was John the Baptist whom Herod had killed because John kept on telling the king that he had no right to take another man's wife as his own. Jesus spoke just as clearly about the sanctity of marriage. People responded to John's teaching about baptism and when Jesus began His work, He baptized more people than John (John 4:1-2).
Jesus then asked, "But who do you say that I am?" Simon Peter answered and said, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." Jesus answered and said to him, "Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah, for flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but My Father who is in heaven." He then promised, "I will build My church, and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it" (Matthew 16:15-18).
These words had to encourage the apostles about what was about to happen. They had been preaching about the coming of the kingdom and Jesus was ready to deliver the keys of the kingdom.
All of this happened just six months before the cross, and for the first time He revealed that the elders, chief priests and scribes were going to kill him. Then Peter took Him aside and began to rebuke Him, saying, "Far be it from You, Lord; this shall not happen to You!" (Matthew 16:22)
How did Jesus respond to this? He turned and said to Peter, "Get behind Me, Satan! You are an offense to Me, for you are not mindful of the things of God, but the things of men." (Matthew 16:23) He was saying to Peter that the church, the coming kingdom, did not belong to Peter. Peter was trying to tell Jesus what it should be like. He was far ahead of the plan of God. Jesus told him to get behind Him and to become a follower. Jesus is the Lord; Peter is the follower.
What a lesson for men today! The church does not belong to men. Too many are far "ahead" of Jesus and what the church should be like. We should follow Him and His plan.
